The DDI noted the incident in the Salang Tunnel which was reported in the Current Intelligence Highlights of 8 November (Attached). He noted that the lead vehicle in a Soviet convoy collided with a fuel truck inside the tunnel causing the Soviets to believe they were under attack. In reaction, the Soviets sealed off both ends of the tunnel. Because of the low temperatures, the Soviets left the engines to their vehicles running; as a result 700 Soviets and up to 2000 Afghans were asphyxiated. [ ]   25X1
